Caton Town Spends $10,000 To Repair Roads, Bridges Damaged By Flood In August

Sum Was Expended On 14 Bridges and 10 Roads, Superintendent Reports to County Highway Head; Money Appropriated From Highway Fund Without State Or County Aid; Complete Report Is Given

CATON — The town of Caton has spent $10,499.83 for repairs to town highways and bridges for damage caused by the disastrous flood of August, 1937. This informaton is contained in a report this week to County Superintendent of Highways William G. Kellogg of Greenwood by Town Superintendent Walter Crooker. Most of the damage caused by this flood has been repaired and all roads and bridges in the township are now reported to be in passable order.

There were 14 bridges and 10 town roads on which this money was spent, the money being appropriated from the general highway fund without state or county aid.

The following figures taken from Superintendent Crooker's report shows the amounts expended on various bridges and town roads:

Knapp road, $134.48; bridge on Knipp road, $84.20; total $218.68.

Max Thomas road, $983.86; bridge, $902.37; Winters bridge, $1,142.37 total, $3,028.60.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Mr. Pegler's column gives expression to his personal opinions which may at times be at variance with the editorial policies of The Evening Leader.

HAGUE POPULAR IN JERSEY CITY

Years ago they told me the story of a stranger in town who asked an Irish cop the quickest way to the nearest hospital and was told to stick his head into Hogan's saloon across the way and holler, "Down with the Pope!"

I have cleaned it up a little, but this version will suffice to make the point that Frank Hague is very popular in Jersey City and that anyone who ventures to call him hard names on his own home grounds assumes certain risks.

The risks are about the same that a Hague man would face in hollering, "To hell with John L. Lewis!" at a meeting of the C. I. O., but much less grave than any dissenter would court in yelling from a soap box in Moscow that Josef Stalin was a man so foul that to mention his name was to poison the tongue. This is the phrase which Representative Jerry O'Connell, of Montana, was going to use in the speech which he didn't deliver in Jersey City the time he forgot to show up.

Among those who are clamoring for their constitutional rights to denounce Hague to his own crowd are some avowed Communists who advocate the adoption here of government by firing squad and many more who haven't the honesty to take membership in the Communist party but hew the party line disguised as Democrats. New Dealers are progressives.

Always Oppose Peace

They include men who like to get up and shake sweat over the first ten rows at union meetings as they holler against every proposal which appears to contain a possibility of industrial peace and fair employment and chuckle when some poor, tongue-tied rank-and-filer in the corner is howled down for trying to say that he likes his job, doesn't want to strike and advocates a settlement. They come not into court with clean hands, and they hate Hague only for doing to them as they have often done to others and would do on a larger scale if they had the safe power.

Hague is one of those heavy handed American local politicians who learned government in the wards and precincts and not from books, and he is disadvantaged when he tries to meet glib and slippery revolutionary intellectuals in debate.

Nevertheless, there is truth in his clumsy statements that the "invaders," as he calls them, are led by Communists and Reds of various hues who have fought and whose policy is always to fight against any proposal which might permit a peaceful solution of any labor dispute and prevent a strike. Hague knows his Communists and the fakes who want to enjoy the game without accepting the name and he knows that strikes and fights around factory gates are scored as hits in their book while peaceful settlements are put down as errors.

There are many cities in the United States in which it is unsafe to rise up on the principal street and express certain sentiments. It would be unwise to say in Atlanta that Sherman ought to come that way again or in Tulsa that it is time Oklahoma had a Negro Governor. On the basis of election returns, which give Hague a local mandate comparable to President Roosevelt's the sentiment of Jersey City is such that denunciation of the Mayor could give violent offense to many impulsive citizens.

Huey Long Much Worse.

Huey Long was a much worse dictator than Hague is and should have been even more hateful to members of the save-Jersey movement, but somehow wasn't at all objectionable to them even at his worst. Yet any crusader for the right to speak freely would deem it imprudent to rise up at his grave in Baton Rouge, and denounce him, that right is just waived.

Moreover, as to the purity of the purpose of this movement there comes to mind the conduct of the late Ku Klux Klan. This organization certainly inhibited speech in many of the centers which it held, but when the most illustrious of the late Klansmen was elevated to the United States Supreme Court he was acclaimed and defended by many of those who now denounce Hague.

But Hague, according to the bill against him, has exactly the same character as Hugo Black and would seem to deserve their indorsement rather than censure.

Supreme Court Lists Decisions On Seven Cases

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Supreme Court Tuesday:

1—Ruled the National Labor Relations Board may withdraw from the Third Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia litigation involving an order directing the Republic Steel Corp. to reinstate 5,000 striking employes.

2—Refused to reconsider its April 25 decision holding "fatally defective" procedure employed by Secretary Wallace in ordering a reduction of charges permitted at the Kansas City Stock Yards.

3—Approved an order issued by Harry L. Brown, as assistant Secretary of Agriculture, on February 17, 1937, fixing maximum rates to be charged by the Denver Union Stock Yard Co.

4—Refused to reconsider its recent action declining to review a challenge by Remington Rand, Inc., of a labor board order directing it to reinstate 4,000 striking employes.

5—Postponed action on a petition by Thomas J. Mooney, serving a life sentence for complicity in the 1916 Preparedness Day parade bombing in San Francisco.

6—Agreed to reconsider a 5 to 1 radio patent decision to which Justice Hugo L. Black had delivof Appeals upholding the death sentences imposed upon Robert Suhay and Glen Applegate for the killing of a federal agent at Topeka, Kans., thereby dooming the pair to death by hanging.
ered a lone dissent.

7—Refused to pass upon a decision of the Tenth Circuit Court

"The Circuit Court," Roberts said, "was without jurisdiction of the subject matter. If the board has complied with the orders made, a hearing would have resulted respecting the legality of supposed action of the board which was not in law or fact the final action, review of which the statute provides."

Officials studied the high court's decision to determine whether it also would apply to the board's effort to withdraw from the Circuit Court at Covington, Ky., litigation involving the Ford Motor Company.

Withdrawal of the litigation, in order to adopt new procedure, was decided upon after the Supreme Court on April 25 had condemned procedure followed by Secretary Wallace in ordering a reduction of rates that commission men on the Kansas City stockyards could charge. The Labor Relations Board wished to adopt new procedure in order to meet possible Supreme Court objections.

The court refused to reconsider its April 25 decision holding "fatally defective" procedure employed by Secretary Wallace in ordering a reduction of charges permitted at the Kansas City stockyards.

In asking a rehearing, Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson contended the court had reversed a decision in the same case two years earlier which he said found no objection to the procedure employed.

Both Jackson and Secretary Wallace had contended the court in its April 25 decision had termed "fatally defective" procedure to which it had not objected in an opinion two years earlier.

Chief Justice Hughes, who read the opinion, added:

"Not only are the two decisions consistent, but the rule announced in our former opinion was applied and was decisive on the present appeal."

Chief Justice Hughes, who wrote the recent six to one opinion (Justice Black dissenting) said the Secretary of Agriculture had not given the commission merchants an opportunity to learn the government contentions and to contest them.

T Rule

The court approved an order issued by Harry L. Brown, acting Secretary of Agriculture on February 17, 1937, fixing maximum rates to be charged by the Denver Union Stock Yard Company.

In a decision by Justice Butler the tribunal affirmed a ruling by a three-judge federal district court in Colorado dismissing the litigation and ordering the stock yard company to refund to its customers the difference between the higher amount collected and the charges specified in the order.

Butler announced no dissent. Justice Black concurred in the result and Justice Cardozo did not participate.

The high court also refused to reconsider its recent action declining to review a challenge by Remington Rand, Inc., of a Labor Board order directing it to reinstate 4,000 striking employes.

An appeal by the Central Executive Council of Remington Rand employes' association challenging the board order, also was turned down.

In an unusual action the court agreed to reconsider a 5 to 1 radio patent decision to which Justice Hugo L. Black had delivered a lone dissent.

Should the tribunal reverse its former opinion, after reargument next October 10, some of Black's views might be adopted.

Justice Butler's majority decision on May 2 held that the general talking pictures corporation of New York City had infringed patents owned by the Western Electric Company and others for use in making talking pictures.

Haverling Rallies To Trim Tribe

BATH — Snapping out of a three game slump, Haverling High School Ramblers rallied in the sixth inning of a league contest at Bath on Wednesday to defeat the Painted Post Indians, who only last Friday snapped the Haverling winning streak. Winning 8-6, after trailing for five innings, the Ramblers rallied back to early season form and profited by Painted Post errors in the fifth and sixth innings. Bill Gethin, lanky Painted Post hurler, held the Ramblers until the fifth inning when he showed signs of weakening and was pounded for three hits and two runs. The sixth inning saw Gethin driven from the box and relieved by Bills who failed to halt the Ramblers' onslaught.

Bus Pettit traveled the full route for the Ramblers and only in the second frame did the Indians sluggers reach him and then registered four runs on an equal number of hits. Three errors, a wild pitch and three hits netted the Ramblers six runs in the last half of the sixth with Bill Gethin credited with the loss the score standing at 5-4 with the bases loaded when Coach Collister sent Bills in as a relief.

Three Hurlers Win AP Honors

NEW YORK —(AP)— Four players, three of them pitchers, share honors in the Associated Press' first roundup of stars for the 1938 season.

Based on the daily tabulation of "Yesterday's Stars," Pitchers Red Ruffing of the Yankees, Paul Derringer, Cincinnati's come-backer, Cleveland Bobby Feller, and Roundhouse Rudy York, Detroit walloper, were deadlocked for the top. Each was mentioned five tiwes in the Associated Press' daily list from the beginning of the season, April 19, up to Tuesday's games.

Knoxville Indes Win Second Game

KNOXVILLE, Pa.—The Knoxville Independents won their second straight league game Sunday, this time at the expense of the hard-hitting Brookland team. Husted, pitching for Knoxville was in hot water most of the time, and was nicked for 12 hits but bore down in the pinches and struck out 11 men.

Snyder, the starting pitcher for Brookland, was very liberal allowing six hits and walking six men in the three innings that he pitched. Storey who replaced Snyder on the mound for Brookland held Knoxville to one lonely hit and struck out nine men in the six innings that he served them up.

Coast Jockey On 31 Winners Over Nine Days

By Russ Newland

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Skinny little Basil James, the baby-faced farm boy with the nerve of a lion tamer, has ridden back into the horse racing headlines at a clip unequalled in California's modern turf history.

Not many performances of the past on any track will overshadow his feats at Tanforan where on nine consecutive racing days beginning May 20 and ending on the 31st, he rode three or more winners daily for a total of 31. Six were triples, two of the quadruple variety and five on the final day of the sensational streak.

Earlier in the meeting he led six mounts into the winner's circle in a single day, equalling the achievement of his keenest western rival, Johnny Adams, who had ridden half a dozen in one afternoon in the meeting at Bay Meadows this Spring.

James won the American riding championship in 1936 with 245 winners. Late last year at Santa Anita he was suspended for six months for grabbing the saddle cloth of another horse.

When he poked his feet back into the stirrups it was about the middle of the Bay Meadows season. He rode 12 winners there. At Tanforan he really started going to town.

He nosed in horses that other jockeys couldn't win with. Long shots began paying dividends — for the last two weeks bettors have been playing James, not the animal beneath him. He gets the call of the mounts now but a lot of these same horses were favorites before and finished out of the money with riders other than the sunnyside, Washington, country boy.

For 22 days of the Tanforan meeting, James has ridden 57 winners, deposing Johnny Adams, the tiny Kansan, as the leading western jockey. Adams galloped off with the national riding title last year with 260 and was king of western tracks for six meetings before hooking up with James in the current clash.

Morgan Fans 13 As Elkland Wins

The Elcos won another softball game behind the stellar performance of "Buster" Morgan. He struck out 13 men and allowed only seven hits, as the Elcos defeated CGW, 9 to 7. In the first inning the boys from Elkland got five runs on four hits and a walk plus two errors by Wellsboro. After futile attempts in the seventh and eighth innings the Elcos came through in the ninth to win by two runs.

FISH --- and --- GAME

BY NORMAN MARKLE

The numbers of brook and brown trout taken over the recent holiday weekend in both the Catskills and the Adirondacks were comparatively low according to the reports of several parties who fished these sections.

A party of four composed of George Trumbull, Leland Young, Wayne Nicholes and Joe Nitsche fished both the Beaverkill and the Willowemac which are reputed to be the two really outstanding brown trout streams of the east. During two days of hard fishing the boys took very few brownies and all were small with the exception of a 16 incher landed by Nicholes.

Men who were familiar with these two Catskill streams attributed the poor fishing to the fact that the recent cold weather had retarded the fly hatch thereby causing the browns, which are usually vociferous surface feeders, to be in one of their indifferent moods.

A choice bit of droll humor was overheard by members of this party in a well known Beaverkill hostelry. It seems that on Saturday evening a fellow angler entered the establishment and stalked to the bar where he proceeded to bury his sunburned nose in a foam glass of ale. After quaffing his drink he smacked his lips and in a commanding tone of voice embellished the "fishy" atmosphere with the following tale:

"Several years ago I hooked a monster trout in a deep pool at the very brink of which stood an ancient over-hanging willow tree. The wash of the swift current had undermined the roots of this giant willow until it leaned over the pool at a precarious angle. It was under this tree that the tackle-busting Brownie made his home. After a brief battle during which the trout never once left his dark retreat my leader parted.

"For several years I tried for this fish but although he was eager to take the lure I could never land him because of his gigantic size and overpowering strength."

"The catching of this fish finally became an obsession with me so last season I rigged up an extra strong outfit and late one afternoon in August I succeeded in securely hooking him. After [illegible] utes of tackle-straining effort my trout came out from in under the giant willow and was landed."

(Here the narrator paused, flipped another dime to the bartender and held up one finger. His ale and porter was again drawn and placed on the bar while his enthralled audience uttered not a sound. The atmosphere was tense as the assemblage strained their ears to hear the next words uttered which would in exact detail tell them the size of this giant trout. After a triumphant glance first up and then down the bar, the stranger continued:(

"And do you know that that trout had lived under the old willow for so many years that the tree depended on him for support. When I took the fish from in under its roots the darned tree fell over into the creek!"

ADIRONDACKS: — The streams in this section were lower than is common at this time of year. This might account for the fact that although great numbers of small trout were taken, the larger fish were reluctant to hit. In the West Canada Creek section we talked with many anglers who all told the same story. They were lucky to find one trout in a dozen that exceeded the seven-inch limit. Such existing conditions are exceedingly rare in a stream the size of the West Canada Creek where great numbers of sizeable trout are known to be.

Contrary to accepted doctrines, the Adirondack native trout preferred flies of a dull coloration instead of exhibiting their usual preference for brilliant hues. Our personal experience was that a steel-gray, Hare's Ear and a light Ginger Quill was much more readily accepted by these mountain natives than were the bright Silver Doctor, Royal Coachman, Paramachene Belle, etc.

Incidently, I saw a resident of the town of Piseco come off the lake by the same name at dusk Sunday evening with two five pound, native trout which were taken on a Miller 75 spoon trolled deep in over a hundred feet of water!

These two "lake natives" as the residents call them were exact duplicates of our ordinary variety of speckled trout. The coloration was true to type, the sides being spotted and the belly and under fins a deep orange-red. Take it from me these two trout were about the nicest pair that I have ever laid eyes on. And yet the lucky angler seemed to prefer a whitefish of about 16 inches which he had also taken, to these two speckled beauties.

Trout Fishing At Lake Keuka At Peak, Cooper

PENN YAN — With trout fishing reaching its peak on Lake Keuka over the weekend, Burton Cooper, president of the Lake Keuka Chapter, Izaak Walton League of America, estimated that fishermen were taing more than 1,000 trout a day out of the Y-shaped lake.

Cooper counted more than 200 boats on the lake Monday night and the West Branch near Branchport where the trout are reported biting furiously looked like a small city when seen from the Esperanza hill with the lights of fishermen dotting the lake everywhere.

The Waltonian president while he said he was glad the fishing was so good was a little apprehensive about the future if trout continue to be caught at the present pace. The fish, he explained, did not get a chance to spawn properly during the past year because of weather and water conditions and if steps are not taken to restock the lake heavily this year, he sees an invitation to poor fishing.

Horton Smith To Wed Miss Bourne

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Horton Smith, professional golfer, said here last night he and Miss Barbara Louise Bourne, a granddaughter of the late Frederick Bourne, president of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. probably would be married in the Fall.

Smith and Miss Bourne came here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry H. Smith. Miss Bourne planned to remain until tonight and then return east, but Smith was to leave to compete in the Kansas City open tournament.

Smith said he did not wish to make direct announcement of their engagement but preferred it come "at the proper place and the proper time" and from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Severin Bourne of Washington, Conn., and Augusta, Ga. Miss Bourne would not comment.

Miss Bourne herself is a top-ranking golfer.

TERRY SEEKING KAMPOURIS FOR 2ND BASE POST

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK —(AP)— They fattened up Henry Armstrong for the Barney Ross scrap with sherry and stout and beer. . .Henry got a glass of sherry with an egg in it every morning for breakfast. . . .In the evening he was given a glass of stout and a bottle of beer with his dinner. . . . The Springfield greys, one of New York's crack semi-pro outfits, blossomed out in safety helmets against the House of David team last night.

Rudy York, who has been doing the old flopperoo in left field for the Tigers, was given a day off yesterday to sit in the stands and try to learn the art of covering left at Yankee Stadium. . . . York has hit three homers with the bases filled this season and his last four-round-trippers accounted for 13 runs.

Bill Terry is trying desperately for a second sacker. . .He tried to get Tony Cuccinello from the Bees and now is after Alex Kampouris of the Reds. . .Burgess Whitehead not only is out for the season, but his baseball career is threatened. . .Armstrong shadow boxed for 20 minutes in his dressing room before facing Ross. Colonel Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, is on the sick list . . . Referee Arthur Donovan says he never saw a man throw punches over a 15-round period like Armstrong did Tuesday night. . .Ross began to show the effects of them as early as the third round. . . Not one of the three ring officials gave the Negro fewer than 10 rounds.

Some of the experts were discussing what will happen when Armstrong tangles with Lou Ambers. . . .One of them popped up: "Ambers can do one of three things," he said, "change his name, leave town or forward his title to Armstrong by the mail man."

Nat Rogers, assistant matchmaker for Mike Jacobs was notified by cable yesterday that he had won one of the $500 consolation prizes in the Epsom Derby . . .Nat went to the front of the Hippodrome to tell the boys just in time to catch Mike Valentine, a fight manager, who fell dead from a heart attack. . .Mike was waiting to be paid off for Johnny Rinaldi, who fought in one of the Ross-Armstrong preliminaries. . . Armstrong has never been cut about the face, head or eyes in his 43 fights under Eddie Mead's management. . . .Sam Pian and Art Winch, Barney Ross' old managers, now will concentrate on their lightweight, Davey Day, and plan to challenge Armstrong in the Fall.

Wellsboro Wins 4th In Row To Top Tioga County Wheel

WELLSBORO, Pa.—Sike Boom's Wellsboro batsmen led the Tioga County Baseball League by a one-game margin today, as final returns came in from Memorial Day's diamond voting.

Wellsboro, with four victories and no defeats to its credit, knocked off Francis Kelly's Mansfield Collegians, 8-2, on Packer Field here. Blossburg and Lawrenceville held on firmly in second place, with averages of .750 each, by dropping Morris Run and Columbia Crossroads, respectively. Elkland, who went through an almost entirely unmarred season last year to claim the league championship, sank like the Maine in Havana Harbor, under the 5-4 torpedoing administered by Knoxville. It was the third defeat for the Miners, who have yet to taste victory this year. An Elkland rally was stopped in the ninth by a sensation catch by Bush in deep left.

It was a fairly good game for a while when Mansfield invaded Wellsboro. B. Kelly, first man at bat, trotted in with a Mansfield run in the first inning, which Wellsboro matched in the second. By the last of the eighth, it was still only 3-2 for the hosts. In that canto, however, Bartoo, Osgood, and Vicki clouted three doubles with one out. Martin flied to center field for the second out, but Thompson singled and scored on Matthews' home run before Mansfield could get the third out.

The Blossburg victory, on its home grounds, pushed Morris Run into last place with a zero average. Outhitting their guests, 10 to five, the Miners rolled up a score of 7-1 before it was over, Jupenlaz and D. Booth each smacking two from three.

Columbia Crossroads, following its lone victory of the season on the day previous at Morris Run, dropped back into the losing column after a 3-2 battle of 10 innings, at Lawrenceville. It was the latter club's second victory over the Crossorads, the two teams having crossed bats in a preseason exhibition game.

Wellsboro will entertain the Crossorads at Packer Field next Sunday afternoon, while Blossburg will cross the county for a game at Knoxville. Mansfield will go up to Morris Run, and Elkland will try to figure out the formidable deliveries of G. Rayle at Lawrenceville.

Standing of the clubs is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Wellsboro	4	0	1.000
Blossburg	3	1	.750
Lawrenceville	3	1	.750
Knoxville	2	1	.666
Mansfield	1	2	.333
Columbia Crossorads	1	2	.333
Elkland	0	3	.000
Morris Run	0	4	.000

Sam Chapman Hits At .314, Sparks Team

By Sid Feder
Associated Press Sports Writer

They laughed when old Cornelius McGillicuddy hinted he might do something with his apathetic Athletics this season. They laughed when he tossed a couple of ex-college boys into his lineup, and they wanted to know if he thought a Ph.D. or two could change a situation that looked like the cellar from Philadelphia to Moscow and back.

But they're laughing out of the other side of their faces now. For the venerable Mr. McGillicuddy—he's the same old Connie Mack, of course — looks like he really might have something there in Philly.

Now don't get the wrong impression. It's definitely not a pennant winner that the lean leader has put together; and it's extremely doubtful if even so excellent a tactician as Cagy Connie can pull his boys out of second-division darkness.

But several of the young gentlemen have been doing such tricks recently that Mr. Mack finds them in the American League's sixth place today, with seven wins in their last 10 starts, the latest a 9-5 thumping they handed Cleveland's league-leading Indians yesterday.

Their record shows 75 runs on 103 hits in the last 11 games and even Bill Terry is looking enviously at that power. For Bill's Giants are deep in a hitting slump —so deep, in fact, that they've managed to score just one run in the 27 innings of their last three starts, all of them losing efforts. Even against their customary cousins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League leaders looked pretty sour yesterday as they dropped a 4-1 decision, with young Russ Bauers, turning in a five-hitter.

Getting back to the A's, you find their sudden spurt dates back about two weeks, when swingin' Sam Chapman, the all-American footballer, left the sunny California campus. Sammy supplied an extra punch, the likes of which the A's haven't seen for some years. In 15 games, he has hit for .314 an driven in 14 runs, a power pace that makes up for the fielding experience he still lacks but which should be acquired as soon as Connie waves that score-card in his face some more.

With the old Indian chief, Bob Johnson, still one of the loop's more dangerous clouters, Sammy's presence has injected a one-two punch of sorts into the lineup. It clicked yesterday, with Bob belting a homer with the bases loaded and Chapman clouting one with "one duck on the pond."

Then there's old Lynn (Line Drive) Nelson, who has proved a most pleasant pitching surprise. He went the route for the sixth straight time yesterday, turning in an effective job for his fourth win.

Right now, of course, the A's aren't giving the leaders any anxious moments. Since the Yankees also lost yesterday, Cleveland's pace-setting margin remained at three full games, with the A's eight games back. The Yanks found Vernon Kennedy's flinging too much and were belted around, 8-4, by the Detroit Tigers. Kennedy chalked up his eighth straight and Hank Greenberg hit his 13th homer in this one.

The Giants' lead, meantime, was shaved to two games over the Cubs whose clash with Boston's third place Bees was rained out. The Cardinals featured homers by Ducky Medwick and Enos Slaughter in walloping the Phillies, 9-4 and Johnny Vandermeer pitched a five-hitter to give the Cincinnati Reds a 4-1 victory over Brooklyn's doleful Dodgers.

Joe Cronin's homer with two aboard was enough for the Boston Red Sox to trounce the St. Louis Browns, 6-3. Buddy Lewis' ninth-inning single drove in the run that enabled Washington's Senators to nose out the White Sox, 5-4.
